D. Michael Dunavant
United States Attorney
Western District of Tennessee

History

- From 1964 to 1980, the violent crime rate tripled in this country. So did robbery. The murder rate doubled. Aggravated assault nearly tripled.
- This was an alarming time for communities across this country. In 1984, Congress passed the Armed Career Criminal Act (ACCA), which gave federal prosecutors a powerful new tool to fight the rise in crime. This law helped prosecutors put away the most violent criminals by requiring a minimum 15-year sentence for felons who were caught with a firearm after their third robbery or burglary conviction.
- United States Attorneys put this new tool to use, going after violent offenders and putting them in jail. By 1992, violent crime had begun a historic decline. From 1991 to 2014, violent crime fell by half; murder fell by half; aggravated assault fell by 47 percent and robbery by nearly two thirds.
 - From 2014 to 2016, violent crime increased by more than 8 percent nationwide, and murders spiked by 21 percent. The increase in the murder rate in 2015 was the largest one-year increase since 1968.

Priorities

"Our goal is not to fill up the courts or fill up the prisons. Our goal is not to manage crime or merely to punish crime. Our goal is to reduce crime, just as President Trump directed us to do. Our goal is to make every community safer – especially the most vulnerable." –Attorney General Jeff Sessions at the Major Cities Chiefs Association, 2017 Fall Meeting

- The President has directed his Administration to reduce crime in America, and the Attorney General has specifically identified violent crime reduction as the top priority of Department of Justice. Here in the Western District of Tennessee, this office agrees with and will faithfully execute that top priority to target and combat violent crime to ensure public safety, by a number of proven measures and effective initiatives.

Upholding and Enforcing the Rule of Law

- The Department of Justice is the only federal agency that has a value; a virtue; a moral imperative in its name – that is, to do Justice. The rule of law is not just about words on paper. It depends on the character of the people who enforce the law, and we must provide leadership, professionalism, fundamental fairness, and urgency. There is and should be a consequence for criminal conduct, and we must not shrink back from aggressive enforcement of the rule of law in all areas just because it is difficult or unpopular.
- The new Charging and Disposition Policy announced by The Attorney General on May 10, 2017, directed all U.S. Attorneys to charge and pursue the most serious, readily provable offense and seek the most substantial guidelines sentence in each case, unless there are circumstances which justify an exception thereto. This policy affirms our responsibility to enforce the laws of Congress; it is moral and just; and produces consistency in the rule of law in our country.

What Is PSN?

Project Safe Neighborhoods is a nationwide initiative that brings together federal, state, local and tribal law enforcement officials, prosecutors, and community leaders to identify the most pressing violent crime problems in a community and develop comprehensive solutions to address them.

FOUNDATIONS OF THE STRATEGY

- ☆ Community-Based – Each local program is contoured to fit the specific violent crime problem in that district.
- ☆ Targeted – Utilizes law enforcement and community intelligence, along with cutting-edge technology, to identify and target the most violent offenders for enforcement action.
- ☆ Comprehensive – Directs United States Attorneys to marry enforcement efforts with support of prevention and reentry strategies to combat violent crime in a lasting way.

Every United States Attorney is implementing a PSN program that incorporates these standard features:

1. LEADERSHIP by the United States Attorney to convene all partners;
2. PARTNERSHIPS at all levels of law enforcement and with the community;
3. TARGETED enforcement efforts that:
 - utilize the full range of available data, methods, and technologies to identify the offenders driving violent crime rates in the most violent locations in the district; and
 - ensure prosecution of those offenders in the federal, state, local, or tribal system – whichever provides the most certain and appropriate sanction;
4. PREVENTION of additional violence by prioritizing efforts such as:
 - ensuring public awareness of the violent crime reduction strategy and enforcement results;
 - communicating directly to offenders about the consequences of continuing violent behaviors;
 - supporting locally based prevention and reentry efforts; and
5. ACCOUNTABILITY for results based on outcome (reduction in violent crime), not merely output (numbers of investigations or prosecutions)

PSN WORKS

Independent research shows that PSN works. Michigan State University's School of Criminal Justice found that:

PROJECT SAFE NEIGHBORHOODS RESULTS (2000-2006)

PSN 1.0

- In the Western District of Tennessee, a PSN partnership was formed in February, 2002 after United States Attorney Terry Harris and District Attorney Bill Gibbons personally met with each local law enforcement agency and with ATF to solicit participation in the identification of the particular gun violence problem plaguing the Memphis/Shelby County area.
- At the center of the problem was the perception among criminals and potential criminals that being caught with an illegal firearm was a "mere inconvenience," due to weak state sentencing laws.
- In response to this problem, the USAO, the Shelby County District Attorney, ATF, and local law enforcement committed to implementing procedures and committing the resources necessary to ensure that in the Shelby County criminal justice system, the perception would be that "Gun Crime IS Jail Time" and no longer a "mere inconvenience."
- Among other things, the USAO created a dedicated firearms unit, the Memphis Police Department created a multi-agency PSN task force, and the PSN partners implemented a weekly review of all arrests and citations in which a firearm was seized.
- At each weekly meeting, the partners review detailed investigative packets that have been prepared by the investigators in every case where a firearm, bullet or casing has been seized and there is an identifiable trigger for federal jurisdiction.

- These packets include detailed criminal history and other information about the defendant, a summary of the current arrest, as well as information related to prior violent crime or gun related arrests. Once a gun case with a federal nexus is deemed to be provable, a determination is made whether to take the individual directly into the federal system (e.g., repeat violent offenders, escalating domestic violence offenders, or individuals who used firearms to commit an offense) or to make a plea offer in state court. Other cases more suitable for state prosecution are handled as usual in the state system.
- The "state offer" cases are opened federally, but then dismissed if the defendant opts to accept the offer and plead in state court. If the offer is rejected, the case is indicted and prosecuted in federal court.
- Under this process, from February 2002 through October 2008, over 12,273 cases were reviewed and 4,004 felons were identified. Over 1,100 defendants were indicted in federal court and over 400 defendants pled guilty to offers in state court. Federal firearms prosecutions increased dramatically during this period, while the number of firearms-related homicides decreased. Indeed, after the initial implementation of the PSN weekly review and intake meetings, the firearms related homicide rate in Shelby County fell 16.4 percent and fell to an 11-year low in 2004.

PSN 2.0 - REINVIGORATION

- On October 4, 2017, Attorney General Jeff Sessions unveiled and announced the expansion and reinvigoration of the department's foundational violent crime reduction strategy: Project Safe Neighborhoods (PSN) initiative, which is a highly successful and proven violent crime reduction strategy to prioritize and focus targeted enforcement on the most violent offenders.
- The reinvigoration effort has 5 components: Leadership by the U.S. Attorney; Partnerships at all levels of law enforcement; Targeted and prioritized enforcement of the offenders that are driving violent crime rates; Prevention of additional violence by public awareness of the violent crime reduction strategy and enforcement results that creates general and specific deterrence; and Accountability for results based on output (increased number of prosecutions) and outcome (reduction in violent crime rates).
- Enhanced PSN 2.0 also utilizes the full range of available data, methods, and advances in technology to identify the locations with significant violent crime issues (hot spots) and the offenders that are driving violent crime there ("trigger-pullers and traffickers").
- On September 24, 2018, the DOJ awarded over $1.1 million in grant funding to Memphis to hire personnel to utilize the National Integrated Ballistic Information Network (NIBIN), to purchase technology required to operate a Crime Gun Intelligence Center (CGIC) and ammunition for ballistic tests of recovered weapons, and to provide for enhanced Justice information sharing technology for the collection, storage, sharing and analysis of criminal justice data.

Firearms Offenses

On October 4, 2017, the DOJ announced the expansion and reinvigoration of the Project Safe Neighborhoods (PSN) initiative, which is a highly successful and proven violent crime reduction strategy to prioritize and focus targeted enforcement on the most violent offenders. We work with ATF, MPD, and SCSO to identify, investigate, prioritize, and aggressively federally prosecute all firearm offenses by prohibited persons under 18 U.S.C. 922 which cause and contribute to violent crime:

- felons in possession of firearms and ammunition;
- persons prohibited from possession of a firearm due to a prior misdemeanor Domestic Violence conviction or current order of protection
- any person who is an unlawful user of or addicted to any controlled substance in possession of a firearm
- any illegal alien in possession of a firearm
- any fugitive from justice or person currently under felony indictment in possession of a firearm
- any person who unlawfully possesses or discharges a firearm in a school zone
- any person who possesses any prohibited weapon under federal law, such as machine guns, firearms with obliterated serial numbers, short-barreled shotguns, or stolen firearms
- any person who acts as a straw purchaser or otherwise provides a firearm to an unauthorized person, such as felons, aliens, or juveniles;
- any person who makes materially false statements to a federal firearms licensed (FFL) dealer or business during the purchase or attempted purchase of a firearm – “Lie and try” cases
- any person who commits any robbery, burglary, or theft of a FFL dealer or business

Opinion | Congress can help us keep career criminals in prison

By David Thompson, Queens, New York

As the nation's largest city, New York City is home to a large and diverse population. One of the challenges we face is how to keep our streets safe from the threat of crime. One solution is to keep career criminals in prison. Congress can help us do this by passing legislation that would allow states to keep career criminals in prison for life. This would be a significant step in reducing crime and keeping our communities safe.

Attorney General Jeff Sessions Announces Reinvigoration of Project Safe Neighborhoods and other Actions to Reduce Rising Tide of Violent Crime

LOCAL RESULTS

Memphis/Shelby County

MURDERS, ROBBERIES, AND RAPES DECLINE

Based on preliminary figures from the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation (TBI) released by the University of Memphis Public Safety Institute and the Memphis Shelby Crime Commission, murders in Memphis were down 17.6 percent during the first three quarters of 2018 (January-September) compared to the same time period in 2017.

Reported robberies were down 12.4 percent, and reported rapes declined 18.2 percent.

For all of Shelby County, the declines were not quite as great, with a 14.5 percent drop in murders, an 11.3 percent decline in reported robberies, and a 16.6 percent decline in reported rapes.

Reported aggravated assaults increased slightly - by 1.9 percent in Memphis and 2.8 percent countywide. Because the overall major violent crime figure is calculated by the FBI and TBI as an aggregate number of all murders, robberies, rapes and aggravated assaults combined, the sheer volume of aggravated assaults drives the overall percentage of increase or decrease. Therefore, overall major violent crime declined by a lesser percentage - 3.0 percent in Memphis and 1.8 percent countywide - than that for murders, robberies and rapes.

NATIONAL RESULTS

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT SMASHES RECORDS FOR VIOLENT CRIME, GUN CRIME, ILLEGAL IMMIGRATION PROSECUTIONS, INCREASES DRUG AND WHITE COLLAR PROSECUTIONS

- Under the leadership of Attorney General Jeff Sessions, the Department of Justice charged the largest number of violent crime and firearm defendants in its history in Fiscal Year (FY) 2018.
- According to data from the Executive Office of United States Attorneys (EOUSA), the number of defendants charged with criminal felony offenses increased by nearly 15 percent from more than 71,200 defendants in FY 2017 to more than 81,800 in FY 2018.
- In FY 2018, the Justice Department charged the largest number of violent crime defendants since EOUSA started to track this category more than 25 years ago (more than 16,800)—surpassing by nearly 15 percent the previous record set just last year.
- In FY 2018, the Justice Department charged more than 15,300 defendants with federal firearms offenses, which is 17 percent more than the previous record.
- Several weeks ago, the Federal Bureau of Investigation released its annual crime report, which shows that violent crime has stopped rising and actually has fallen under General Sessions' leadership. And the preliminary information we have for 2018 gives us reason for continued optimism: Public data from 60 major cities show that violent crime was down by nearly 5 percent in those cities in the first six months of 2018. For the first time in two years, the rising overall violent crime rate and surging homicide rate have decreased. We expect even more significant progress in the future.

Commitment: Justice for victims and consequences for criminals

"These sustained decreases in reported gun crimes and all major violent gun crime categories are encouraging, and shows that our return to proven enforcement policies under PSN is working. Putting the right people in prison incapacitates the most violent offenders, upholds the rule of law, deters criminal conduct with a strong message of significant consequences, and makes us all safer."

- If you are a violent criminal with a firearm, you will be held accountable and removed from our streets.
- If you are a victim of crime, there will be justice.
- If you are a law enforcement officer, you will have my unwavering support.
- If you are a member of the U.S. Attorney's staff and want to wear the white hat, you are going to have a heavy caseload.
- If you are a citizen, rest assured that we will achieve better public safety results.
